ABBOTT & COSTELLO

RADIO COMEDY: 1940 - 1949

OVERSTOCK SALE PRICE!

"Heeey, Abboooott!" Lou's high, panicky call usually preceded an impending disaster and the audience's hilarious laughter. Bud Abbott and Lou Costello teamed up in 1936. They got their "big break" on The Kate Smith Hour, where they became a resounding success. The team then went on to Hollywood, appearing in some 38 movies and their own radio and TV shows. Their famous "Who's on First" skit earned them a gold record, and the honorable distinction of being the first non-baseball playing celebrities ever to be inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame. Their clever humor continues to delight comedy connoisseurs of every age.

GANGBUSTERS

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1943 - 1954

OVERSTOCK SALE PRICE!

Billed in 1935 as "the only national program that brings you authentic police case histories," GangBusters hit the airwaves with a message: Crime doesn't pay. Created by Phillips H.

Lord with the blessings of J. Edgar Hoover, GangBusters glamorized the FBI's G-Men, government law enforcement officials who put their lives on the line fighting ruthless criminals. It worked, too! By 1943, 286 crooks were behind bars as a result of this show. Perhaps the best-remembered of the radio police shows, GangBusters is filled with action, suspense and gritty realism.

6-TAPE COLLECTION INCLUDES:

KIDNAPPED PAYMASTER • RAY EARNEST • BROADWAY BANDITS • CHICAGO COUNTERFEITERS • NICHOLAS SENO • SNYDER KENNEDY • ELUSIVE LEADER • APE BANDIT • MISSING CORPSE • NICKLE AND DIME BANDITS • RUMBOLD VAULT ROBBERY • JERSEY BUTCHER BANDITS

PAT NOVAK FOR HIRE

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1946 - 1949

"I rent boats and tell a few white lies, if the price is right."

San Francisco trouble-shooter, Pat Novak was a hard-boiled flatfoot who operated out of a small waterfront office at Pier

19. The show was ripe with biting dialog and sarcastic metaphors—just the thing for the young Jack Webb (see Dragnet, page 37). A high camp radio crime drama, this show was filled with murder, beautiful dames, and twisted plots.

A&E BIOGRAPHY

JACK BENNY VIDEO

JACK BENNY: Born Benjamin Kubelsky on February 14, 1894, Jack Benny's life was packed with laughter. A&E presents wonderful footage of a young Jack Benny, his radio and TV shows, his long-time friendship with George Burns, his marriage and homelife with Mary Livingston, his daughter's fairy tale wedding, as well as interviews with him in his later years. You'll laugh and love this marvelous tribute.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF DENNIS DAY

RADIO COMEDY: 1946 - 1951

Dennis Day, the boy with the beautiful tenor voice on the Jack Benny Program starred in his own show beginning October 3, 1946. Dennis once again played a naive young man with a wonderful singing voice. Set in his "home town" of Weaverville, Dennis played a lowly soda jerk at Willoughby's Drug Store. Between his job, low wages, and a girlfriend with a feisty mother and a wimpy father, A Day In The Life Of Dennis Day played up Dennis' talents while never taking itself too seriously.

Phil Harris-Alice Faye Show

RADIO COMEDY: 1948 - 1954

24 HOURS OF CONSECUTIVE EPISODES!

Phil was the rough-cut, lovable egomaniac. Alice was the movie star who gave up fame to be a wife and mother. Their home life was full of Phil's wild predicaments, which grew wilder with the help of Frankie (Elliott Lewis), Phil's guitar player and the man who could dig Phil even deeper into trouble. Sponsor, Rexall Drugs, became an integral part of the stories with Gale Gordon playing Mr. Scott, the Rexall boss. Each Sunday night Phil segued from his role on the Jack Benny Show to his own program with Alice and the gang and their own brand of songs and silliness, complete with Phil's popular phrase: "Oh, you dawwwgg!"

ALICE FAYE VIDEO

ALICE FAYE: Alice Faye was a rags-to-riches girl whose fresh face, beautiful voice and dancing ability made her a top star in the 1930s-40s. By the time she was 20, she had made 8 movies with such stars as Rudy Vallee and Tyrone Power. However in 1945, an incident at the studio made her leave the movie business and never look back. Here is the amazing story of Alice Faye, her career, her 54-year marriage to Phil Harris and her full life until her passing in May 1998. Z875 (VHS Video - 50 Minutes)$19.98

FIBBER MCGEE AND MOLLY

SOUND BYTE
http://www.aic-radio.com

RADIO COMEDY: 1935 - 1959

The #1 rated show of 1941 (topping even Jack Benny and Bob Hope), "Fibber McGee" (Jim Jordan) and his faithful, long-suffering wife "Molly" (Marian Jordan) spent 24 years bringing their comedic blunders to audiences across the country. Childhood sweethearts from Peoria, actors Jim and Marian Jordan had performed together in vaudeville and on radio, but it was the "McGee's" who made them stars. Sponsored by Johnson Wax, the show unconventionally and often hysterically incorporated the Johnson Wax salesman into the action of the program (rather than stop for a commercial break). Each year brought a humorous host of supporting characters that included Teeny, Abigail Uppington, Myrt, Mayor LaTrivia, Old Timer, Alice, Dr. Gamble, and Throckmorton P. Gildersleeve, who later left to star in his own successful show. (See Page 10).

THE FRED ALLEN SHOW

RADIO COMEDY: 1932 - 1949

Fred Allen was the undisputed master of the ad-lib, often throwing out his scripts during a show. He and Jack Benny (pages 4-6) began a long-running "feud" climaxed by the famous "King for a Day" skit when Benny was stripped to his shorts in one of the wildest shows ever aired! With failing health, Allen left radio in 1949. Allen's skills are best remembered by Jack's comment, "You wouldn't dare talk to me that way if my writers were here."

THE GREAT GILDERSLEEVE

RADIO COMEDY: 1941 - 1957

Former neighbor and rival of Fibber McGee, Throckmorton P. Gildersleeve arrived in Summerfield in 1941 to begin his curiously crazy reign as the town's Water Commissioner and most eligible bachelor. "Gildy" also took on the formidable task of raising his nephew and niece, Leroy and Marjorie. Gildersleeve was played by Harold Peary for almost 10 years, after which Willard Waterman took over. During its successful run, memorable characters such as Judge Hooker; Peavey, the hen-pecked druggist; and Birdie, the Gildersleeve cook brought laughter and pleasure to millions of Americans.

THE BICKERSONS

RADIO COMEDY: 1946 - 1951

They fight, they pick, they squabble and squawk—they're The Bickersons, America's most famous bickering couple. Portrayed by Don Ameche and Frances Langford, the couple enjoyed such great popularity on The Charlie McCarthy Show that in 1946 they became the center of the Drene Time Show. John and Blanche Bickerson argued about everything. Mostly, however, they fought because John loved to sleep, and he snored... loudly. Blanche couldn't sleep and since she hated to be up alone, woke John. Thus began their bickering and the audience's laughter! A comedy classic, fans still laugh to the lovable bickering of The Bickersons!

MY FAVORITE HUSBAND

RADIO COMEDY: 1948 - 1951

The first regular radio show of the famous comedienne Lucille Ball, My Favorite Husband was the story of Liz and George Cooper (also known as The Cugat): "Two people who live together and like it." With her great comedic skill, Lucy brought the innocent character of Liz into the most hilarious situations. Richard Denning played husband, George. Gale Gordon (who later starred as banker Mr. Mooney in the popular TV series The Lucy Show) played George's demanding boss, with Ruth Perrott as his wife. Premiering on July 5, 1948, My Favorite Husband ran for three laugh-packed years.

BURNS & ALLEN

RADIO COMEDY: 1932 - 1950

Reasoned Gracie on the 1940 national debt: "It's something to be proud of—it's the biggest in the world, isn't it?" Everyone loved Gracie's inside-out logic, and no one could bring forth her mixed-up wisdom better than husband, George Burns. George and Gracie first teamed up in 1922. George delivered the funny lines, but it was Gracie who got the laughs. The decision was obvious: from then on they switched parts. George became widely known as the world's foremost straight man. Audiences loved it then and now! These two albums of consecutive shows are from the 1942-43 season. It's laughs galore with Gracie taking on everything from fortune-tellers to doctors!

LIFE OF RILEY

RADIO COMEDY: 1941 - 1951

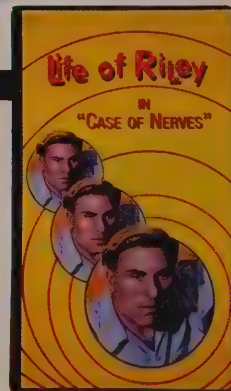

"What a revoltin' development this is," was the catch phrase sweeping the country in the summer of 1943. This expression of riveter Chester A. Riley was a big part of this "typical" family man. Riley (William Bendix) managed to change any ant hill of a problem into a Grade-A disaster! For 8 years, Riley's weekly mishaps included his wife, their two kids, co-worker Gillis, and of course the friendly undertaker Digby "Digger" O'Dell.

LUM & ABNER®

SOUND BYTE

RADIO COMEDY: 1931 - 1954

From the hills of Arkansas, Lum Edwards (Chester Lauck) and Abner Peabody (Norris Goff) brought a mixture of down-home hillbilly comedy and soap opera antics to radio. For 23 years people tuned in to their continuing adventures in Pine Ridge. Lauck and Goff's "Jot 'Em Down Store" was inspired by friend Dick Huddleston's store in Waters, Arkansas. As Lum and Abner grew in popularity, Dick lead the drive to change the town's name to Pine Ridge—which it did! For 10 years, Lauck and Goff wrote, handled sound effects and played all the characters. In 1948 Lum & Abner turned their 15-minute daily show, into a weekly 1/2 hour program.

Our Miss Brooks

RADIO COMEDY: 1948 - 1957

As the tart-tongued English teacher of Madison High School, Eve Arden brought the role of Connie Brooks to the air. The show offered a sense of the familiar to parents, students, and most of all—teachers. Writer Al Lewis created the very human Miss Brooks with her share of problems: senseless 10th grade students, low pay, and a harried principal for a boss—Osgood Conklin (played by the marvelous Gale Gordon).

The Halls of Ivy

RADIO COMEDY: 1950 - 1952

The charming Ronald Colman and talented wife Benita Hume were popularly known as Jack Benny's ever-patient next door neighbors (See Pages 4 - 6). However, in January 1950 they left on the first radiowave eastward to start their own show: The Halls of Ivy. Ronald played

William Todhunter Hall, president of Ivy College in the "town of Ivy, U.S.A." Benita was wife Vicky, the former Victoria Cromwell of the English theatre. The stylish college president was brought down to earth by the lively former actress who happily referred to him as "Toddy-dear." Together, the Halls handled the students, as well as the stodgy Board of Directors, with a "modern" flair that endeared listeners to the warmth and wit of the Colmans.

LIFE WITH LUIGI

RADIO COMEDY: 1948-1953

"A year ago when Luigi Basco left Italy to start his new life in America, he promised his mother that he would write and tell her about his adventures." And so we are introduced to the lovable Italian immigrant played by J. Carroll Naish. Luigi runs an antique store in Chicago. Next door is the Spaghetti Palace run by countryman and sponsor Pasquale (Alan Reed)—who sees Luigi as a prospective husband for his 300-pound daughter, Rosa. But Luigi has other ideas, including using his time to go to night school where he meets other immigrants and learns how to be an American—with hilarious and heart-warming circumstances.

DUFFY'S TAVERN

RADIO COMEDY: 1940-1952

"Hello, Duffy's Tavern, where the elite meet to eat, Archie the manager speakin'. Duffy ain't here. Oh, hello Duffy..."

This became one of the most famous of all radio introductions. Set in Brooklyn, New York, Archie (Ed Gardner) managed this dive that featured lousy service and bad food, but attracted a never-ending list of famous stars such as: Mickey Rooney, Jimmy Durante, Ann Sothern, Charles Coburn, Rudy Vallee, Shelly Winters, Artie Shaw, and more! Always a surprise, Archie, Eddie the waiter, Clancy the Cop and man-hungry Miss Duffy kept fans listening and laughing at Duffy's Tavern.

Baby Snooks

RADIO COMEDY: 1937 - 1951

Snooks is a brat, playing her Daddy like an out-of-tune violin, but she's the soul of innocence when confronted. Here are three 6-tape collections which present top quality Baby Snooks material from masters that were owned by none other than "Daddy" himself—Hanley Stafford! Hear Fanny Brice as the impish 7-year-old who drove her Daddy nuts. Compiled from skits on The Good News Show of 1939-1943, you'll roar again to the wild predicaments and silly logic of America's favorite brat.

My Friend Irma

RADIO COMEDY: 1947 - 1954

Jane: "Al has no job, no money, no clothes, no car, no prospects & no future."

Irma: "I know, but I have to stick with him in case things get tough."

Irma Peterson (Marie Wilson) was silly, daffy, naive and absolutely lovable—according to her roommate, the sane, logical and dependable Jane Stacy (Cathy Lewis).

Nobody was safe from Irma's antics, not even Jane's wealthy Park Avenue boss and boyfriend, Richard Rhinelander III. As Jane put it, "I thought Latin was the most difficult thing to understand. Then I met My Friend, Irma."

Philco Radio with Bing Crosby

RADIO VARIETY: 1946 - 1949

SOUND BYTE
http://www.alic-radio.com

As the first major transcribed network show, many people in the trade thought the Philco-sponsored variety program had a poor chance for success. However, they did not take into account the huge popularity of "America's Crooner," Bing Crosby. He believed that people wanted a good show, and no one would care if it was live or "canned." By recording the show, they could edit out flat sections and produce a smooth, quality program. It was what Bing wanted, and it's what he got... and he was right! With such wonderful guests as Boris Karloff, Al Jolson, Danny Thomas and Brace Beemer (The Lone Ranger), Crosby presented to audiences a variety program filled with songs, skits and fun.

Bing Crosby Biography

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT VIDEO

He was one of the most popular entertainers in history—yet perhaps the one we knew least. Here is the life of "America's Crooner," from his early struggles on stage to his becoming a singing and acting sensation with half a billion record sales and an Academy Award. But Bing Crosby was also a private man with a darker side. Interviews with close associates, feature film footage, archival newsreels, sound recordings and family photographs paint a portrait of this multi-faceted man. Z854 (VHS Video - 50 Min.)$19.98

ETHEL & ALBERT AS... THE COUPLE NEXT DOOR

RADIO COMEDY: 1957 - 1960

Peg Lynch, the well-known writer of Ethel and Albert, presents a fun-loving slice-of-life show: The Couple Next Door. Created from her own and friends' experiences, the "Build A House" series begins with a newspaper error that sends house-hunters calling and propels the Pipers into the American dream: building their own home. But, whatever CAN happen... DOES! Small issues balloon into catastrophes, making it seem that this loving family will NEVER get into their new house.

THE LITTLE THINGS IN LIFE

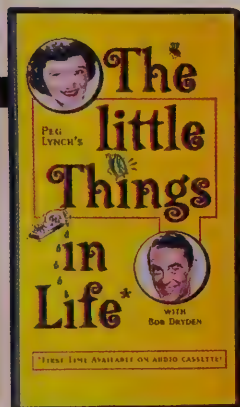

RADIO COMEDY: 1975 - 1976

"It's not nice to eavesdrop, but it's fun! So let's check in on the comedy of errors at the Baxters..."

Can't find the car keys? Locked out of the house? Have surprise guests...who end up staying for a week? All these "little things" build into silly scenarios of crisis proportion for the Baxters. Written by Peg Lynch, author of Ethel and Albert, these shows remind us of the funny things that happen every day. Take time for a laugh—it's the best medicine for the "little things!"

ACADEMY AWARD

RADIO DRAMA: 1946

This exclusive show required the highest standards in its programming; either the stars or the movie on which it was based must have won or been nominated for an Academy Award. Opening March 30, 1946, these dramatized stories of the movies specialized in top talent, original musical scores and superior sound effects.

Sadly, the high production costs which made Academy Award so popular, also effectively caused its demise after only nine months.

As "America's Mother of the Air," Ma Perkins (played for the entire run by Virginia Payne) was sensible, honest and kind. Her sage advice averted more than one disaster over the course of the show's 25 years on the air. Her life was modeled after the Golden Rule, and as matriarch of the small town of Rushville Center, she staunchly battled evil. In this series, a flashy national magazine promises to immortalize Rushville Center. With its shop-lined Main Street and friendly neighborhoods, it seems to epitomize the concept of "home town." However, the added attention begins to change things... for the worse! It's neighbor vs. neighbor in competition to see who will be featured in the article. Plus scandal rocks the town when a local boy falls for a glamorous outsider.

RADIO DRAMA: 1938 - 1956

Will happiness ever come to Ellen Brown? Hers is the story of an upstanding and honorable young woman, faithfully striving to raise her two young children, earn a successful living, and still tend to the needs of her heart. Loyal listeners cheered as her business flourished under her astute management. But more often than not, they wept when such things as unscrupulous romantic rivals, homicidal maniacs, and grave illness threatened her love, indeed her very life. Through these hardships, Ellen Brown maintained her gentle and compassionate nature, always forgiving, always hopeful that one day her dreams would come true.

MAYOR OF THE TOWN

STARRING
LIONEL BARRYMORE

RADIO DRAMA: 1942-1949

The rough, gruff voice of Springdale's Mayor (Lionel Barrymore) was filled with warm-hearted compassion for the people of this small community. With the country facing the fears of war, the townspeople looked to the kind Mayor for advice and support. From the joys of birth to the sorrows of lost soldiers, here are stories that touch the heart. The Mayor helped his friends and neighbors live through the hard times on the home-front. His own household was run with the help of his trustworthy housekeeper Marilly (Agnes Moorehead), who not only cooked and cleaned, but also made her opinions known on all the issues. Many of these shows were recorded on cardboard-based discs due to the material shortages during the war. Although they have survived the test of time, some have more background noise than others. However the voices are loud and clear and we know you will enjoy these touching, dramatic stories.

SCIENCE FICTION: 1955 - 1958

Ray Bradbury, George Lefferts, Isaac Asimov, and Robert Heinlein were only a few of the country's best science fiction authors who lent their talented skills to create "stories of the future, adventure in which you'll live in a million could-be years on a thousand maybe worlds." Introduced by NBC in 1955, X-Minus One grew to become one of radio's most imaginative and diverse science fiction programs. For three years, the roar of rockets transported listeners to "the far horizons of the unknown."

On a foggy fall evening in October, America went to war with Mars! Normal programming was interrupted as listeners heard the startling news that there were "explosions occurring on the Planet Mars!" Reports followed stating that a "huge, flaming object" had fallen to Earth on a farm near Grover's Mill, New Jersey. More landings were soon reported and a frightened radio audience concluded that Earth was under invasion by aliens! This is the program that terrified a nation. Thousands fled their homes in panic. In the town of Grover's Mill, the local water tower was

RADIO ADVENTURE: 1938 - 1955

Atop his steed Rex and accompanied by King, the swiftest and strongest lead dog in the Northwest, Sergeant Preston (Paul Sutton) brought law and order to the Canadian West. Third successful creation of George Trendle (The Lone Ranger and The Green Hornet), the show was originally called Challenge of the Yukon, but Sergeant Preston became so popular that the series' title was changed in 1953 to include his name. Crooks, bushwhackers and villains never stood a chance against this man and dog team who for 17 years, "always got their man."

DIAMOND OF ASHER

RADIO ADVENTURE: 1934

"We bring you Tarzan, that immortal fictional character of Edgar Rice Burroughs, in a new and exciting serial entitled TARZAN AND THE DIAMOND OF ASHER, which is adapted from the novel, Tarzan and The Forbidden City. Deep in the heart of Africa rises a mighty cone-shaped mountain, an extinct volcano, in the huge crater of which lies The Forbidden City of Asher... To reach this stronghold two safaris endure hardships and perils that bring death to some and high adventure to all... One safari is bent on the rescue of the son of its leader... the other, headed by a wily and unscrupulous Oriental, seeks only the Father of Diamonds... And through the intrigue and the mystery and the danger moves the majestic figure of Tarzan, Lord of the Jungle."

FIRES OF TOHR

RADIO ADVENTURE: 1935

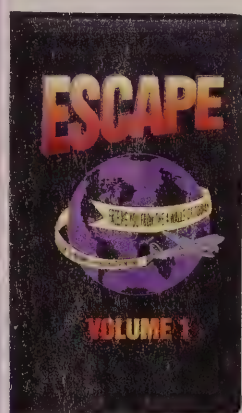

While investigating the illegal activities of slave traders and ivory smugglers, Tarzan and his friend, Paul D'Arnot save a member of the Burton-Ashleigh Expedition from death. After learning that the expedition is lost, Tarzan agrees to lead the group out of the jungle. However, they would soon be captured by a strange yellow race, and taken to the lost city of Tohr to face the dangers of the arena, rogue elephants and sacrifice to the Fires of Tohr—a hidden lake of volcanic fire that shoots up through a pit to the temple. Befriending the son of the ruler of a rival city who is held as a slave in Tohr, Tarzan and his friends face death at every turn. Love, hate, jealousy, and political intrigue—as well as courage and loyalty—all play parts in this thrilling serial produced under the personal direction of Edgar Rice Burroughs.

ESCAPE

RADIO MYSTERY: 1947-1954

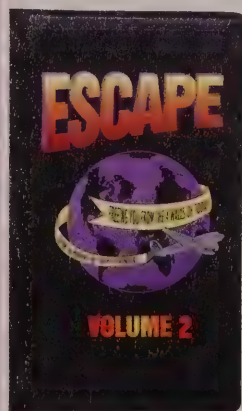

Escape was high-adventure radio pushed to the limits. The gripping voice of William Conrad boomed out over the airwaves: "Tired of the everyday grind? Ever dream of a life of romantic adventure? Want to get away from it all? We offer you—ESCAPE!" Starting in 1947 with Kipling's "The Man Who Would Be King," the show featured the best action literature had to offer, with spine-tingling tales from such masters as Joseph Conrad, Arthur Conan Doyle and Edgar Allan Poe. One of the best shows on the air, Escape mixed hair-raising adventure with tales of the supernatural and incredible twists of fate. Be sure to hear the classics "Leinegan Vs. The Ants" and "Three Skeleton Key" for some of the best adventure and sound effects action ever created on radio! Producer/director Norman Macdonnell, a skilled story-teller, coaxed a solid performance from his cast of radio pros every time.

SUSPENSE

RADIO MYSTERY: 1942 - 1962

Suspense, "radio's outstanding theatre of thrills," kept audiences riveted to their seats, as they listened to life-or-death stories. Each moment heightened the sensation of impending doom for the stories' characters. Director William Spier (known as "the Hitchcock of the air") frequently reduced rehearsal time so stars would tense as they stepped up to the microphone, adding to the suspense.

MOON OVER AFRICA

MYSTERY SERIAL: MARCH 16 - SEPTEMBER 7, 1935

Prof. Anton Edwards leads a scientific safari comprised of his daughter Lorna, his assistant Jack Martin, and Inguru, a huge Masai prince who is friend and bodyguard to the Professor. Unexpectedly, Edwards has come into possession of a severed, preserved human head—that speaks! The Professor maintains that it is the language of Atlantis, a lost civilization which he has been studying for years. Confirming this theory are stories told by natives of a marvelous white tribe known as the Golden Race. Following the mysterious directions of the Talking Head, the safari faces grave peril as it traverses the dark recesses of Africa in search of a remnant of the lost race.

THE WHISTLER

RADIO MYSTERY: 1942-1955

Thirteen notes of an eerie melody... a haunting whistle that precedes the echoing foot steps. A dark, mysterious man walks forward, then speaks: "I am The Whistler... I know many strange tales, many secrets hidden in the hearts of men and women who have stepped into the shadows..." Cloaked in mystery, The Whistler (Bill Forman) was a shadowy figure who goaded the stories' murderers to their inevitable doom. Billed as "the Pacific Coast's leading mystery show," its surprise endings often included a shocking double twist that intrigued and amazed.

LIGHTS OUT EVERYBODY

RADIO MYSTERY: 1936 - 1947

"If you frighten easily, turn off your radio now."

So warned Arch Oboler at the beginning of each Lights Out Everybody story. These 15- and 30-minute stories of the unusual aired only late at night when kids wouldn't be listening (or so it was thought!). The show was originally created by NBC staff writer, Wyllis Cooper. But it was the famous writer/director/sound effects technician Arch Oboler who, in 1936, turned it into a sensation. Fan clubs formed across the country as mystery enthusiasts tuned in for the sinister stories and blood-curdling sound effects of this, radio's ultimate horror show. Prepare yourself for terror, and keep your hand on the light switch!

THE ADVENTURES OF SAM SPADE

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1946 - 1951

SOUND BYTE
http://www.vic-radio.com

Hard-boiled private eye Sam Spade attracted unusual clients like bullets to a target. His gritty San Francisco adventures were the unique creations of writer Dashiell Hammett & producer/director, William Spier. With Howard Duff in the title role (later Steve Dunne), Sam Spade was the down-to-earth flat-foot whose weekly exploits brought him just enough money and excitement to keep him in business. Each week a completed caper found Sam back in his office dictating his escapades to Effie (Lurene Tuttle), his faithful secretary. The HAIL & FAREWELL ALBUM features the final 12 episodes of the great detective.

THE ADVENTURES OF PHILLIP MARLOWE

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1947 - 1951

SOUND BYTE
http://www.vic-radio.com

"Get this and get it straight. Crime is a sucker's road, and those who travel it wind up in the gutter, the prison or the grave."

Famous author, Raymond Chandler created Phillip Marlowe (played by Van Heflin & Gerald Mohr). This tough private detective knew his business well. Here was a gumshoe whose clients ranged from ballet dancers to snake charmers. With a certain street-smart sixth sense, this detective kept himself and his business alive with a hard-nosed, but kind attitude that always kept people coming back for more.

RICHARD DIAMOND

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1949-1953

NEW ALBUM!

"Diamond Detective Agency. If you have a little corpse in your home, swap it in for something useful..." The smart-mouthed, classy detective, Richard Diamond (Dick Powell), was a former policeman who operated under his own rules. He worked closely with his 5th Precinct friend, Lt. Walt Levinson (Ed Begley), and Walt's not-so-bright desk sergeant, Otis (Wilms Herbert). Though a clever detective, Diamond frequently managed to be on the wrong end of fists, gun handles, and various other blunt instruments. His battered body always recovered in time to solve the case. Then Diamond headed over to the apartment of his wealthy girlfriend, Helen Asher (Virginia Gregg), where he finished his day with a song.

YOURS TRULY, JOHNNY DOLLAR

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1949 - 1962

The freelance insurance investigator with the "action-packed" expense account, Johnny Dollar (played by Edmond O'Brien & Bob Bailey) was a world-wide traveler who knew how to sniff out fraud. Equipped with a keen mind and enough muscle to hold his own, Johnny could be depended on to probe out the truth. Stories always developed in terms of his expense account: "Expense account, item one..." At the end, the expenses were neatly totaled and signed, Yours Truly, Johnny Dollar.

"The story you are about to hear is true. Only the names have been changed to protect the innocent."

So Dragnet was introduced, making famous the Los Angeles Police and Jack Webb as Sgt. Joe Friday. Beginning June 3, 1949, Webb was perfect as the no-nonsense cop who, along with his partner Ben Romero (played by Barton Yarborough), took on the due process needed to find L.A.'s killers and thieves. Listeners followed each case, walking in the shoes of the detectives, learning the details and solving the crime along with the police. For seven years (and later as a movie and TV series), Dragnet realistically portrayed life on the streets with a "just the facts" flair that made the show and Webb famous.

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1939 - 1952

Brains, guts and determination set Mr. District Attorney apart from the ordinary. Former law student Ed Byron based his hero on Thomas Dewey, the D.A. who "cleaned up" New York. Byron spent hours each week with crooks and cops alike. Armed with information and creativity, he carved out a reputation as a forecaster of news events. One script warranted a visit from the FBI when Byron's show featured a Nazi sub dropping off spies on the Atlantic Coast the same day as the G-Men handled just such an incident. This exciting series won many awards while entertaining and surprising fans.

CASEY, CRIME PHOTOGRAPHER

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1943 - 1955

Some say a picture is worth a thousand words, but the ace cameraman of the Morning News found his pictures worth a thousand adventures! Casey appeared at the scene of a crime, snapped his pictures and shortly thereafter found himself embroiled in solving a murder, theft or robbery. Together with his reporter girlfriend, Annie Williams, and his bartender friend, Ethelbert of The Blue Note Cafe, they covered the crime news of the great city.

THE GREEN HORNET

RADIO DETECTIVE: 1936 - 1952

NEW!

"He hunts the biggest of all game, public enemies who try to destroy our America." Britt Reid, grandnephew of The Lone Ranger and owner of the "Daily Sentinel" newspaper is the infamous Green Hornet (whose name was inspired by the buzzing sound from his car's defective horn). Created by George Trendle (originator of The Lone Ranger), the Green Hornet crusaded for justice with an arsenal of tools that included gas guns and smokescreens. For 16 years, The Green Hornet struck fear into the hearts of mobsters, swindlers and corrupt cops, while staying just one step ahead of the law himself.

ADVENTURE 1945

Faster than a speeding bullet!
More powerful than a locomotive!
Able to leap tall buildings in a single bound!

The "World's Finest" heroes joined forces in 1945 on this top-rated radio series years before they would team up within the pages of DC Comics. Superman (Bud Collyer) together with Batman (Stacy Harris) and Robin (Ronald Liss) work to save Lois Lane, when she's fingered as a cold-blooded killer. Can they do it? Digitally restored, this set includes a 60-page historical book, with a foreword by Jackie Kelk, (radio's Jimmy Olsen), as well as rare photos and behind-the-scenes commentary.

GUNSMOKE

http://www.vac-radio.com

RADIO WESTERN: 1952 - 1961

"Around Dodge City and territories on west, there's just one way to handle the killers and the spoilers—and that's with a U.S. Marshall and the smell of gunsmoke."

Enter Matt Dillon, a hard man with his own personal code of conduct. Played by William Conrad, the Marshall was the center of a first class radio show—a Western made for adults, with vivid stories of violence and death. From the writing and acting to the music and sound effects, every part of this program was top notch. Fans came to know the walk of deputy Chester Proudfoot, the sounds of Kitty's saloon, and the opening of Doc Adams' medical bag. For nine years Dodge City came alive with the sounds of gunmen and cowboys, horses and cattle, and adventure in the Old West.

HAVE GUN, WILL TRAVEL

SOUND BYTE
http://www.vac-radio.com

RADIO WESTERN: 1958 - 1960

"If the girl who's being held prisoner has been harmed in any way, I'll flip a coin to see which one I gun down first." Each show began with this type of short, threatening exchange by lead character, Paladin (John Dehner). Immediately listeners knew this was a no-nonsense man with a fast gun and a short temper. Paladin did the dirty work others wouldn't do—for a hefty price. An audio oddity, Have Gun Will Travel was one of the few shows that originated on TV and later transferred to radio. A man who delivered excitement and adventure, Paladin became the Western soldier of fortune whom audiences cheered.

HOPALONG CASSIDY

RADIO WESTERN: 1950 - 1952

A straight-shootin' knight of the range dressed in black, Hopalong Cassidy was everyone's hero. In contrast to the evolution of most other programming, Hoppy came to the radio in 1950 after his 1930's films were re-run on TV. Truly a national sensation, this cowboy detective show was distinctive in that the listeners seldom knew the identity of the bad guys until Hoppy tripped them up and brought them to justice. Opening for two years to "the ring of the silver spurs," Hoppy became such a popular character that TIME Magazine reported a national shortage of black dye due to the demand for Hoppy shirts and pants!

FORT LARAMIE

"STAGECOACH STOP"

"Specially transcribed tales of the dark and tragic ground of the wild frontier. The saga of fighting men who rode the rim of empire and the dramatic story of Lee Quince, Captain of Cavalry."

Premiering in January 1956, Raymond Burr starred as Captain Quince—a soldier who followed orders and a leader who lived by his own rules of fairness and honesty. Here are stories of frontier life on the dusty plains of Wyoming, and the man who led the fight to tame the Northwest Frontier. Created by Norman Macdonnell of Gunsmoke fame, this show was deemed "a monument to ordinary men who lived in extraordinary times." The powerful voice of Raymond Burr was sup-

TALES OF THE TEXAS RANGERS

RADIO WESTERN: 1950 - 1952

Branding the Texas Rangers as "the oldest and most famous law enforcement body in North America," Stacy Keach produced and directed this show of the modern West. Premiering in July 1950, popular cowboy star Joel McCrea played the role of Ranger Jace Pearson. He, together with only 49 other Rangers, enforced law and order in the 266,807 square miles of hot, dusty Texas turf. For over three years, these authentic re-enactments of actual Texas Ranger case histories were a weekly ritual for law-abiding Western fans.

RED RYDER

RADIO WESTERN: 1942 - 1949

Red: "Draw up that pony, Little Beaver, there's trouble tonight."

Little Beaver: "You betchum Red Ryder! Get along, get 'em up, get!"

America's famous fighting cowboy (Reed Hadley) was a red-headed, red-shirted, two-fisted tornado who lived on Painted Valley Ranch with his aunt, "The Duchess," and his Indian ward Little Beaver. Red was kept busy foiling the plans of his arch-enemy, Ace Hanlon. Red's strength, cunning, horsemanship and sharpshooting abilities were put to the test in his continuing quest to bring the wily evil-doer to justice.

THE SIX SHOOTER

RADIO WESTERN: 1953 - 1954

ENTIRE SERIES!

Jimmy Stewart was perfect for the part of the slow-talking gunfighter, Britt Ponset. Here was an easy-going gentleman who usually blundered into other people's troubles and sometimes shot his way out. The announcer opened the show with: "The man in the saddle is angular and long legged; his skin is sun-dyed brown. The gun in his holster is gray steel and rainbow mother-of-pearl. People call them both The Six Shooter." A "folksy" Western series, this show also embedded a comedic feel in its stories. Although truly a bright spot in radio Westerns, it arrived too late and lasted only one season. With the last show, the sun set in a brilliant flare of Western adventure.

THE LONE RANGER

RADIO WESTERN: 1933 - 1956

With his Indian companion Tonto, the masked rider of the plains hit the airwave trail on January 30, 1933. The Lone Ranger was a tough man with a will of iron who never smoke or drank, never shot to kill, yet meted out law and order with an unswerving sense of justice. His mask, silver bullets and great white horse became fixtures of American culture. "Hi-yo, Silver, awaaaaaay!"

FIRESIDE CHATS

1940 - 1945

Franklin Delano Roosevelt led the U.S. through an era of fear and hardships combined with a camaraderie that pulled our country together in a way as no other. During World War II people gathered by their radios to hear the voice from the White House. He rallied America over the airwaves. Here is history. Here is FDR.

D-DAY

JUNE 6, 1944

NEW ALBUM!

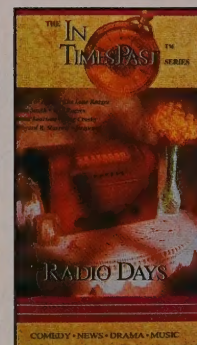

General Dwight D. Eisenhower was ordered to: "...undertake operations aimed at the heart of Germany and the destruction of her armed forces."

The result: Operation Overlord. The biggest amphibious operation ever undertaken. The climactic battle of World War II. The invasion of France. The longest day. D-Day: June 6, 1944. At 3:32 am Eastern War Time, Communique #1 was transmitted by shortwave radio to the world. Read by Colonel Dupuy of SHAEF (Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces), it said: "Under the command of General Eisenhower, Allied Naval forces, supported by strong air forces, began landing Allied armies this morning on the Northern Coast of France." With that simple announcement, the largest invasion of all time was acknowledged. Here are the first seven hours of actual CBS news coverage of that historic day, when family and friends listened and prayed for the 175,000 brave fighting men whose lives were on the line.

COMMAND PERFORMANCE

RADIO VARIETY: 1942 - 1949

"The greatest entertainers in America as requested by you—the men in the U.S. Armed Forces throughout the world. Command Performance, presented this week and every week until it's over, over there." This weekly program took the requests of WWII's servicemen to heart. One requested to hear the sound of a cow being milked by a city fellow. William Bendix handled that. Another requested a parody of a radio station. No problem. Eddie Arnold, Jimmy Durante, and Lauren Bacall head up the crew for Radio Station KREJ ("jerk" spelled backwards). It was silly skits, spirit-lifting songs, and fun-loving pranks that made Command Performance a favorite of servicemen the world over.
